Marc Klaas

KlaasKids Foundation

On October 1, 1993, twelve-year-old Polly Klaas was kidnapped from her California home and murdered. In 1994, KlaasKids was founded by her father, Marc Klaas, to give meaning to her death and create a legacy in her name. KlaasKids Foundation pursues the singular mission of stopping crimes against children.

Marc Klaas has worked with families of kidnapped children and victims during the search for their loved ones. Marc is a nationally recognizable advocate appearing on Larry King Live, CNN Headline News, 20/20, America's Most Wanted & Nancy Grace. He also lobbies to pass laws that help crime victims and their families.

Portions of proceeds will help benefit our local search and rescue.

“What makes Greatness is starting something that lives after you, your legacy.”
